

Arctic Collection
Tables in Corian

Arctic Collection

Studio Jens Praet and Studio Vibeke Skar are teaming up designing two brand new collections, labeled under one precise theme: Arctic Collection.

As a reflection on the industrial revolution's major after-effect, the global warming, provoking glacier ice melting, which is threatening the balance in the world, the studio-duo is trying to reach the people's attention by creating everyday objects with a subtle environmental message.

The end result is a table collection inspired by the Arctic with its melting ice glaciers and eroded details. Through the use of sensitive detailing, eroded and water carved details, the studio-duo is creating a strong communication medium enhancing the importance of both global industrialization and the beauty and emphasis of the Arctic environment...
